PATRIOTISM

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils. The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier, and a fault finder. A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness. Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

"After I received the advice which you gave me in regard to my treatment," writes Geo. Dornier, Esq., of 1914 Pataski Street, Baltimore, Maryland, "I used your 'Golden Medical Discovery' according to directions. After using four bottles I considered myself cured, as I have not felt any symptoms since. Had tried almost all remedies that I heard of that were good for dyspepsia, but without relief. Finally, I became discouraged, and wrote to you for advice, with the above result."

The dealer who offers a substitute for the "Discovery" is only seeking to make the little more profit realized on the sale of less meritorious preparations. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

RAIDED GAMBLING HOUSE.

In a fashion reminiscent of the James-Younger gang, two bandits held up a gambling den at Columbia Heights near Minneapolis, Minn., early last night, and secured $1,943 from the score of players and proprietors, meanwhile seriously wounding Harvey Howard, the colored porter. The gambling place is located some distance from the center of Minneapolis, at the end of a trolley line. Each robber used a dark-colored handkerchief to shield the lower part of his face. There are two entrances to the place, and the bandits, appearing simultaneously at either door, ordered the inmates to hold up their hands. The score of players and attendants were then aligned on one side of the room, and while the bandit leader kept them covered with his revolver, his assistant rifled pockets and tills. First David Brice, the manager, was searched. He was relieved of his revolver, which was thrown out of the window. Then $165 was extracted from his pockets. Ingram Flick, treasurer of the resort, yielded $1,608. Half a dozen patrons of the place were relieved of sums ranging from $10 to $40. While the robbery was in progress, Steve Carlson, who lodges upstairs, looked in. He made a hasty exit, with four shoes fired at him. Then Harvey Howard, the colored porter, aroused from a nap, bounded in to learn the cause and bounded out again, but two bullets, one in each leg, tumbled him into the street, where he laid for half an hour until some of the robbed men carried him into the place after the bandits had left. The second robber went into the saloon in front of the place, where he secured $80 from the cash drawer. Afterward the bandit leader ordered his assistant to "get the rig." During his absence it developed that Sullivan's clothes had caught fire, as the huddled crowd had pressed him close to the stove. The remaining bandit directed a realignment of the victims, because, as he said, he did not want to burn the man up. When the second robber returned, the robbers backed out, keeping the crowd covered with their revolvers until they themselves had disappeared into the darkness. Half a dozen detectives and a posse of citizens hastened to the scene, but search for the robbers thus far has proved futile.

MOSBY ENFORCING LAW.

A United States District Attorney, a special agent of the Interior Department, a gang of powerful cattlemen and a United States Senator entered into a plan to secure the scalp of a Confederate veteran who now holds an important federal position in the West. The veteran is John S. Mosby and he goes back to his post with the scalp of the special agent Lesser at his belt, with his knife under the hair of the District Attorney and with the material at hand to do up the cattlemen. It is the old story of the rapacity of a cattle corporation. For years a concern in western Nebraska has occupied thousands of acres of the public domain without a dollar of rental. Miles of barbed wire fence have been erected, enclosing government lands in violation of the law. The United States attorney and the special agent never discovered that the law which has been violated persistently for seventeen years was not enforced. They winked at the rapacity of the cattlemen. Finally Colonel Mosby was sent out to investigate. His report stirred things up and United States Senator Millard demanded his removal. President Roosevelt and Secretary Hitchcock called Mosby to Washington. He has been there about two weeks and has gone over all the papers and has convinced the President that he has simply tried to enforce the law. Orders were issued removing the special agent Lesser and Colonel Mosby is ordered to go back and remove every illegal fence existing in the State. The District Attorney for Nebraska will be removed if he fails to aid Mosby in enforcing the law. Colonel Mosby's victory means that every illegal fence in the West will be removed. It means, too, that more than a million acres of the public domain now illegally fenced will thus be restored to settlement. It will probably result in the biggest land sensation heard of in years, as the cattle companies of Nebraska are accused of obtaining titles to several hundred sections of land by fraud. Secretary Hitchcock means that the investigation just about to begin shall be thorough and exhaustive.—(Wash. cor. Syracuse, N. Y., Sunday Herald.)

ATTACK ON FREE TRADE.

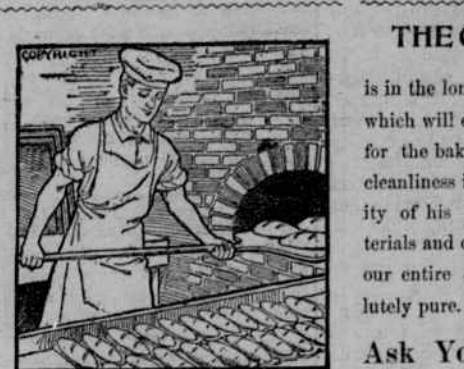

William Prece, ex-president of the Institution of Civil Engineers, in an address before the Society of Arts, in London a day or two ago, said harsh things concerning British commercial and industrial conditions. The condition of the railways he considered unsatisfactory. Regarding commercial soundness, he said that parliament had legislated on this matter regardless of commercial prudence. The remedy was in combination of the companies, British com-

David Hughitt, of 10th and Susquehanna Ave., Philadelphia, says: "I have found Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup a positive cure for coughs and colds, especially where the cough is hard and distressing. It heals the throat and cures the inflammation. It is the best medicine I have ever used for diseases of the throat and lungs."

mercial and industrial supremacy had practically ceased, largely owing to lack of commercial education and obsolete business habits, and also to lack of commercial patriotism and the free trade fallacy. The nations which had not adopted free trade flourished more than the solitary nation that had adopted it. He instanced the protection of their industries by the Americans, whose policy was dictated by intense patriotism. If the Americans were right in principle and successful in practice the whole policy of the United Kingdom was founded on gigantic error and must lead to commercial ruin.

WORKS TO PROLONG HUMAN LIFE.

A discovery in relation to the prolonging of human life has just been announced by Prof. Jacques Loeb of the University of Chicago. Salt and water, the "elixir of life" discovered by Dr. Loeb two years ago to be efficient in making turtles' hearts beat again with rhythmic throbs, has been found to be a powerful restorative for dying mammals, and the professor thinks he is a step nearer the goal of prolonging human life indefinitely. The experiments, of which Dr. Loeb spoke to his class, were made by Assistant Professor Edward P. Lyons in the laboratories at the University. Dr. Lyons began his experiments with the lowest forms of mammalian life—mice, then dogs and cats. Making the animals kept in the University of Chicago laboratories for experiment, he gave them such treatment as would bring them to a condition where life was practically extinct. Then by injections of sodium and calcium solutions into their veins, he was able to restore for varying periods of time the heartbeat in its normal rhythm and strength.

A Thanksgiving Dinner.

Heavy eating is usually the first cause of indigestion. Repeated attacks inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach, expose the nerves of the stomach, producing a swelling after eating, heartburn, headache, sour risings and finally catarrh of the stomach. Kodol relieves the inflammation, protects the nerves and cures the catarrh. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia, all stomach troubles by cleansing and sweetening the glands of the stomach. E. S.
